Hi Nick,

Attached are our proposed edits to the Joint Rule 26f Report. We do not yet have final authority from our client on these, but thought I'd pass it along in order to keep things moving. While I believe the proposed changes are self-explanatory, kindly let me know if you have any questions.

We are still reviewing the extensive revisions to the proposed protective order and proposed ESI protocol. We will send our revisions to those documents when our review is complete.

Best regards,
Morgan

We accepted many of the edits, but there are a number of areas where it might make sense for us to have a call to discuss. We are available periodically on Tuesday – if there are some times that work for you all that day, please let us know.

Nick

Hi Nick,

As to the protective order, it has come to my attention that MLW's GC may be married to MLW's CEO. Can we set up a quick call on Thursday to discuss how to handle the same with respect to the PO? If you are free, let me know some times that work for you and we can match calendars.

Best regards,
Morgan

Nick,

As discussed below, we believe it more efficient to conduct a Rule 26 conference with a working draft of the joint report guiding the discussion. To that end, we have prepared the attached for discussion on tomorrow's call. We look forward to discussing the same.

Best regards,
Morgan

Morgan,

We are prepared to discuss the issues required for the joint case management statement during the 26(f) conference and will circulate a draft joint case management statement following our discussion on October 6. As you know, there are issues we need to discuss during the conference (such as a proposed discovery schedule or other planning or discovery orders), so we think it makes more sense to circulate a draft which incorporates each party's position after we have had the benefit of our discussion.

Best,
Nick

Nick,

Judge Davila's standing order and Local Rule 16-9 require the parties to submit a joint case management statement. Judge Davila requires parties to file the joint statement no later than 10 days before the case management conference (i.e., October 17). Please let us know if you plan to circulate a draft ahead of the Rule 26(f) conference that we can consider and discuss at the same.

Best regards,
Morgan
